

ShaughnessyHowell can bring the benefits of Psycho-Geometrics® to your organization. Interactive workshops provide an excellent way for employees to learn how to improve communications with co-workers and customers alike.

Communicating Beyond Our Differences Workshop

Too often we let our differences with the people in our work lives get in the way of developing productive and positive working relationships. This fun, fast-paced and interactive session gives participants insights and techniques for instantly relating more effectively with everyone they work with. Based on the work of Dr. Susan Dellinger PhD., participants learn to use geometric psychology to identify the beliefs, values and attitudes of any person they meet and get better results.

Course Length:	3 hours

Know Your Style and Use It Well 90-Minute Workout

Today's fast-paced business environment often leaves employees with little time for personal skill development. Organizations can now offer valuable communication skills workshops in a compressed 90-minute format. This 90-Minute Workout can be offered as a learning component of a team meeting or Lunch 'n Learn and is sure to keep the members of your organization energized and engaged.

We all have preferences and personal styles that affect our behaviour and how we communicate with everyone around us. This engaging and interesting workshop identifies the five primary styles based on the Psycho-Geometrics® System. Understanding these styles and your own can impact your ability to influence and negotiate.
